

Time To Say Goodbye

They say the greatest waste of time has gotta be regret
When I look back I've got none of that
There's never been a cross word said, but it's a continental drift
That's been pushing us apart in a time lapse
We're supposed to be growing, but I think we've been slowing down

Time to say goodbye
It might be the last thing on your mind
But someone's gotta be the first
To break the hourglass of time
To close the door
Deep breaths fall short
Stick the keys in and drive
It's time to say goodbye
Time to say goodbye

Everything I've ever wanted is on the other side of fear
But I've gotta get over you to get over there
We could both take a vacation, make it a long one too
We won't have to worry, we won't have a care

We're supposed to be growing, but I think we've been slowing down

Chorus x2

We gotta take a step, Take a step back now
Out of my house, out of my car, out of my heart
Out of my heart
Time to say goodbye might be the last thing on your mind
Goodbye
