

Heartland

Once upon a time you stole my heart
Without a reason or rhyme
I should've known it right from the start
The truth lied behind your eyes

I knew someday you'd drift away
It was a matter of time
A million starts up in the sky
We shine together you and I

Take me back to the place where it all began
Remember the first time you held my hand
As we danced across the floor
Paint a picture of forever
Back to the feeling I felt inside
Back when I knew love was blind
Even though we are miles apart we stand
Heartland

It only happens when I think of you Now I'm losing my grip
Pull me in into your arms again

I knew someday you'd drift away
It was a matter of time
A million starts up in the sky
We shine together you and I

Chorus

I usually run from what I feel
But it's never felt this real We started off strong
But I guess we were wrong
I gave it my all
I gave you my heart to hold

Chorus

Heartland x4
